

The Protestant Reformation and Religious Wars

AWKWARD DINNER PARTY

Date: _____

Time: During AP Euro, at a table in the El Capitan High School Forum.

You have been invited to a dinner party at the home of Prince Philip of Hesse. There will be a lot of other guests there, in particular all the VIPs of the Reformation of the 15th and 16th centuries.

It would be best to show up prepared, so be sure to bring a sign that you will attach to your shirt that includes a famous quote you are responsible for. Do NOT write your name on it- this will make introducing yourself to the other guests a lot more fun. Also, you might think it is rude to show up empty-handed, so you can bring something to share with the class (for extra credit).

You must also bring a note card (which you will turn in) which contains information about you and your impact on the Reformation. Include your character's name, where they are from, their position, and their religious faith.

One of the most important parts in a successful party is the seating arrangement. A good seating arrangement facilitates lively discussion and creates a comfortable, relaxed environment. A bad seating arrangement can create an awkward situation.

Your job, when you arrive, is to find out information about everyone, and find a place to sit where you will feel comfortable. You should try to avoid people you have differences with in order to avoid a scandalous fight at the party.
